Camp Raanana

Summer is the most exciting time of year, so why not spend it at a place that has the most excitement? From archery to boating, overnights to sports, Camp Raanana is everything a camp should be and more. The J operates Camp Raanana at the beautiful Michigan United Conservation Club's (MUCC) Nature Center at Cedar Lake, located a short drive away in Chelsea, Michigan.

We spend all year getting ready for camp by exploring new activities, making improvements to the grounds, hiring exceptional staff, and inviting new campers (and their families) to join our camp family. Why? Because we believe every child should have the chance to play, swim, learn new skills, explore nature, build important relationships, and stay healthy. These are just a few of the Jewish values which guide us. Become part of our family today and you'll be ready to jump into all of this summer's excitement at Camp Raanana.
